Employers and workers alike, be sure to check the minimum wage!

The minimum wage system applies to all workers,
including part-time workers and student workers,
regardless of their age and working hours.
Fill in your salary ^() and the applicable minimum wage in your prefecture ^() into the form to check!

Calculation methods

Fill in your salary and the applicable minimum wage in your prefecture. ^(*)

A For hourly pay

Your hourly pay	≥	The minimum wage (hourly rate)

B For daily pay

Your daily pay	÷	Average scheduled working hours per day	=	Your hourly rate	≥	The minimum wage (hourly rate)
¥		hours		¥		¥

C For monthly pay

Your monthly pay	÷	Average scheduled working hours per month	=	Your hourly rate	≥	The minimum wage (hourly rate)
¥		hours		¥		¥

D If your pay is calculated by a combination of A, B, or C above

For example, if your basic pay is paid daily and benefits (such as a duty allowance) are paid monthly

- ① Basic pay (daily pay) → Calculate the hourly rate using method B
- ② Benefits (monthly pay) → Calculate the hourly rate using method C
- ③ Total amount of ① and ② ≥ the minimum wage (hourly rate)

(*) The following forms of pay are not considered when you compare your pay with the minimum wage.

① Wages paid in special circumstances (marriage allowance, etc.) ② Wages paid covering a period of more than one month (bonuses, etc.) ③ Wages for work that exceeds scheduled working hours (premium pay for overtime work, etc.) ④ Wages for work other than scheduled working days (premium pay for work on a statutory day off, etc.) ⑤ Of the wages paid for time worked between 10 p.m. and 5 a.m., the portion that exceeds pay for normal working hours (premium pay for night work, etc.) ⑥ Perfect attendance allowances, commuting allowances, and family allowances

(*) For more detailed calculation methods and calculation methods including commission, consult your local Labour Bureau or the Labor Standards Inspection Office.
